51528	Dry Fly Creel Collection Washington Bourbon 101 "A three year old whiskey made from Washington corn, unmalted wheat, and barley. Golden amber in color, the Dry Fly Washington Bourbon has a nice spicy nose that brings together cinnamon, vanilla, allspice, oak, and caramel. The entry is very flavorful with big vanilla and caramel that hit the palate right out of the gate. The mouthfeel is simply fantastic, soft without being fatty with just a hint of elegance to it. Things open up considerably in the mid palate with some fantastic spice that balances out the sweet tones in the bourbon, including cinnamon, clove, and oak. The heat begins to come through at the end of the mid palate and leads to a fantastic long, sweet, and spicy finish. There's no question that this is a younger bourbon, but how Dry Fly has managed to pull a level of complexity and sophistication out of such a young spirit is absolutely beyond us." 49644	Oola Waitsburg Bourbon Whiskey "This medium to full bodied bourbon presents a classic profile of vanilla, caramel and cherry on the nose - rich and compelling. Sweet, smooth corn combined with brown sugar/maple syrup and oak is balanced with a notable spice contributed by the higher than normal rye content. The finish is beautifully long with notes of buttery oak, toffee, and again the cherries make an appearance." - Reviewed by: Producer	$39.99	N/A	N/A
51525	Dry Fly Creel Collection Port Finish Wheat Whiskey "Showing a Deep Reddish Blush Purple Pink around the Edges. The fruity richness of the Portwood is subdued but present and lays across everything else in the Nose . The sweet broad Grassiness of the wheat lightness the Portwood influence somewhat. A Decent Combo." - Reviewed by: Whisky Advocate - 82pts	$29.99	N/A	N/A
