	"The 2011 Etna Rosso Calderara Sottana is light in color but masculine in personality. It-s a tight, nervous wine that needs more time to evolve in the cellar. Pretty fruit tones of wild berry and cassis set the stage, leaving ample room for nuanced mineral expressions. The tannins are tight, but polished and should become finer with age." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 94pts

	"Feudo Maccari's 2011 Nero d'Avola Saia is a beautiful rendition of this native Sicilian grape that delivers smooth fruit and cherry sensations backed by dark spice, chocolate and moist chewing tobacco. The wine ages in oak for up to 16 months and you can feel that extra intensity and softness as the wine caresses the palate. Nero d'Avola's personality comes through in terms of the bright acidity and aromas of scorched earth." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 90pts
67375	2011 Tasca d' Almerita Tascante Ghiaia Nera Nerello Mascalese	$19.99	N/A	N/A
	"From the blackened sloped of Mount Etna, the 2011 Tascante Ghiaia Nera is a pure expression of Nerello Mascalese. The Tasca family purchased precious vineyard land on Etna and began releasing a series of volcano-based wines about five years ago. This is a very successful, ruby-colored expression that is appropriate for near-term consumption. The grape's natural tannins have been softened and the wine shows generous fruit tones, mineral shadings, leather, tobacco and exotic spice." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 91pts

	"Bright red. Captivating aromas of red cherry, graphite, aromatic herbs and violet. Then rich, dense and suave in the mouth, offering ripe red cherry and red berry flavors and extremely silky tannins. The bright acidity gives this wine a refined, almost austere quality. Finishes very long and dry, but not drying. An absolute knockout of a wine, and the best Santo Spirito ever. Made from a higher-altitude vineyard that usually delivers very fine, silky tannins, this wine is a major success in 2011, a year in which higher vineyards were generally penalized by rainfall." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 93pts

72013	2011 Cos Cerasuolo di Vittoria Classico	$29.99	N/A	N/A

"The 2011 Cerasuolo di Vittoria Classico is 60-40 Nero d'Avola and Frappato, aged 12 months in oak. The quality of the fruit is very dried, to the point of being a fault. Sun-dried cherries, raspberry roll-up candy and creme de cassis emerge in unison. The wine shows moderate depth and layering. A pretty dose of acidity helps to render more vibrancy to the mouthfeel." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 88pts
