	"The 2010 Cabernet Franc's drop-dead, beautiful bouquet of bouquet garni, lavender, blueberries, black raspberries and sweet forest floor notes is further evidence of just how remarkable Napa Valley Cabernet Franc can be. From the western hills of St.-Helena, this example is not a blockbuster in the mouth despite its magnificent aromatics, but is medium-bodied with gorgeous concentration, a velvety, opulent, mouthfeel and a long finish." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 95pts

	"The 2011 Raats Family Cabernet Franc comes from two parcels of 20+-year-old vines and sees 16 to 18 months in new and used oak. It has a very composed bouquet with dark cherry, raspberry, undergrowth and leather that grows in intensity in the glass. The palate is medium-bodied with a saline entry. The tannins are very fine and frame crisp red and black fruit that segue into a gently fiery finish. This is very well-crafted." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 92pts
