114298	Pallini Limoncello	$19.99	N/A	N/A
	"The snappy, zesty bouquet is clean, tart and refreshing, then in the latter stages the astringent presence of lemon peel really comes alive. Palate entry is like lemon drop hard candy, sweet but pleasantly tart; by midpalate, the tartness accelerates becoming more astringent and refreshing with every sip. One of the best limoncellos to come my way in a year or two. Best Buy." 90-95 pts. - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast

	"Sophisticated and delightful aromas of tangerine and rhubarb. The palate entry is delightfully citrusy and sweet; the midpalate phase offers just enough herbal bitterness to balance. Ends up refreshing, orangey sweet and delectably herbal. This deserves to become a popular pre-dinner quaff." 90-95 pts. - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast

Finishes with a long, polished wood, peppermint oil, nutshell and bitter root fade. A powerful digestif." - Reviewed by: Beverage Testing Institute

220181	Campari	$26.99	N/A	N/A
	"Cherry-red color. Nose is snappy and expectedly bitter in a woodsy, earthy, quinine-like way. Palate entry is mild in a sweet-sour fruity manner; midpalate is sweet and only moderately bitter. Finishes long and mildly quinine-like. While I'm not a bitters aficionado (more a bitter aficionado, really), Campari and orange do positively click. I'm savvy enough to know when not to argue with 58 million Italians." 80-84 pts. - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast

Concludes sweet, thick, and luscious." 90-95 pts. - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast
