59997	2012 Burgans Albarino	$13.99	N/A	N/A
	"A bright greenish yellow color with golden highlights. A uniquely fruity aroma where the variety is clearly appreciated, highlighting hints of ripe apples, apricots, and peach aromas. In the mouth, it is rich, mellow and well-balanced. The aftertaste is fully rounded and off dry on the palate with juicy fruit flavors, clean acidity and a long, mineral-dominated finish." - Reviewed by: Producer

	"Light yellow-gold. Pear, nectarine and yellow plum aromas are brightened by honeysuckle and dusty minerals. Broad and fleshy but energetic, offering ripe orchard fruit flavors and a bitter kick of lemon zest. Finishes with good grip and tangy persistence, leaving a musky pear skin note behind." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 88pts
52045	2011 Martin Codax Albarino	$13.99	N/A	N/A
	"Our Martín Códax 2011 Rías Baixas Albariño is delicate and medium-bodied with a crisp, dry finish. Flavors of ripe apple, peach, pear and lemon zest are framed by bright minerality and hints of spice. This Albariño displays intense floral aromas and an attractive acidity, making it a versatile, food-friendly wine." - Reviewed by: Producer
59118	2012 Nora Albarino	$14.99	N/A	N/A
	"Pale yellow. Spicy pear and melon aromas are complicated by notes of dusty minerals and honeysuckle. Silky and gently sweet on entry, then tighter in the mid-palate, offering lively citrus and orchard fruit flavors and a touch of white pepper. The floral note repeats on the firm, focused finish, which shows very good clarity and persistence." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts

	"Pale, green-tinged yellow. Mineral-laced citrus fruit and floral aromas show very good clarity, with a deeper note of pear skin adding complexity. Dry, racy and precise, offering lively lemon/lime flavors and a touch of bitter quinine. Closes on a ripe citrus fruit note, with strong mineral cut and tangy persistence." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts
52307	2011 Marques de Murrieta Pazo de Barrantes Albarino	$17.99	N/A	N/A
	"The wine is straw yellow in color, with greenish nuances, bright and well-defined. It is a voluptuous white wine with surprising bottle longevity preserving its citrus, fruity and floral fragrances of grapefruits, pears and white flowers. In the mouth it reveals its elegant personality, freshness and varietal character with a pleasant and well-defined texture. All through the mouth it displays a succulent feeling, adding a certain muscular structure balanced by a smooth-as-silk acidity with a persistent and lengthy finish."

	"The 2012 Pazo de Galegos Albarino comes from a small estate that has been in existence since the 1500s (and apparently has one of Spain’s oldest vines, allegedly 500 years in age, with a trunk the size of a large tree). Aged in stainless steel tanks and put through partial malolactic fermentation, the wine exhibits lots of honeyed tropical fruit, orange marmalade, pineapple and apricot characteristics. Attractively fleshy, these wines need to be consumed in their exuberant, fresh youth." -Robert Parker, Jr. - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 89pts
