65204	2012 L'Ecole No 41 Semillon	$14.99	N/A	N/A
	This wine was named #75 on Wine Enthusiast's Top 100 Best Buys of 2013. "L'Ecole tackles, with great success, two of the least-recognized strengths of Washington viticulture: Sémillon and Chenin Blanc. Here the blend includes 13% Sauvignon Blanc. It's well built, full bodied, with a mix of citrus and stone fruits, generous acidity, and some finishing skin flavors putting a slightly bitter frame around it." - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast - 90pts
56231	2011 Brokenwood Semillon	$18.99	N/A	N/A
	"Pale straw. Honeysuckle, jasmine, fresh pear and honey on the fragrant nose, accented by a touch of chalk dust. Crisp and nervy on the palate, with vibrant lemon-lime and orange pith flavors enlivened by bitter herb notes. Youthfully tight on the finish, with features clean, brisk citrus tones and a late note of quinine." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts
58477	2012 Dalton El Kosh Semillon	$26.99	N/A	N/A
	"Elkosh is the youngest of Dalton's vineyards, where a combination of chalky soil and a cool microclimate help to produce an outstanding Semillon. An ammonite fossil is used to represent the vineyard, as so many were unearthed during the preparation of the vineyard. This wine is rich and creamy, with note of lemon zest and citrus. The wine is long on the finish and shows great finesse." - Reviewed by: Producer
59506	2011 Robert Foley Semillon	$24.99	N/A	N/A
	"Floral aromas, honeyed juicy fruit, rounder and richer on the mid-palate than previous vintages. Great acid balance for brightness of flavors and aromas and length in the finish. A light and lively version of Semillon without oak or the broad waxy character of over ripe fruit." - Reviewed by: Producer
69571	2013 Brokenwood Semillon	$18.99	N/A	N/A
	"Light, dry and fragrant, with lime and nectarine notes that linger delicately on the finish." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 88pts
69347	2011 Torbreck Woodcutter's Semillon	$16.99	N/A	N/A
	"Light gold. Pungent pear, fig and honey aromas, buoyed by notes of lemon pith and white flowers. Chewy and tightly focused on entry, then fleshier in the mid-palate, offering bitter pear skin, anise and citrus fruit flavors that show a refreshingly dry edge. Fleshier on the finish, which strongly repeats the lemon and licorice notes. This wine's combination of power and dryness will make it extremely flexible at the table." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts
