68133	2011 Treana White	$19.99	N/A	N/A
	"The Treana white is the perfect alternative for a Chardonnay drinker that would like to try something a little different. This blend is 50% Marsanne and 50% Viognier (one of my favorite white grapes). The nose is a bouquet of creamy tropical, citrus and floral notes. It has a fuller bodied mouth-feel, like a Chardonnay, since 75% of the juice was aged in oak barrels. You get subtle hints of peach, apricot, blood orange, herbs and white pepper on the palate." Reviewed by: Christi T, Wine Consultant, Binny's Plainfield "Light yellow-gold. Assertive aromas of poached pear, peach, honey, chamomile and vanilla, with a spicy top note. Fleshy and broad on the palate, offering deep orchard and pit fruit flavors braced by zesty acidity and a gingery nuance. Distinctly rich but lively as well, finishing with solid punch and lingering sappiness. The Viognier shows clearly on the nose while the Marsanne leads on the palate." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts

	"(52% grenache blanc, 27% viognier, 16% roussanne and 5% marsanne; all stainless steel): Light yellow. Deeply pitched orchard and pit fruit scents and flavors are lifted and sharpened by notes of lemon pith, white flowers and ginger. Juicy, incisive and refreshingly bitter, with a suave blend of richness and vivacity. A smoky nuance comes up on the finish, which shows strong cut and subtle herbacity. This will be highly adaptable at the table, especially with grilled poultry or fish, which is no surprise given its southern Rhone bloodline." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts
