	"Also superb, with ample creme de cassis, licorice, smoked meats and licorice in its big, full-bodied personality, the 2011 Hermitage has a knockout texture, masses of fine tannin and a great finish. Enjoy it over the coming 15 years or more." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 94pts

	"Deeply pitched aromas of cherry compote, potpourri and Asian spices, with an exotic note of singed orange. Concentrated but surprisingly lively, with densely packed dark berry flavors and a hint of bitter chocolate. The floral note comes back strongly on the impressively long, smoky finish." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 91pts

	"The 2011 Hermitage (also still in barrel), in comparison, is more focused and straight, with a slightly more serious feel to its tannin profile and overall structure. All of the samples (again, tasted in individual components) were beautifully perfumed, with the Les Bessards (which will make up the bulk of the blend) showing surprising density and concentration in a vintage that generally produced more up-front and supple wines. A serious 2011 that will certainly be one of the stars of the vintage, it should be reasonably approachable on release and have an easy two decades of longevity." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 96 to 98pts

	"The prodigious 2010 Hermitage reveals classic flowery notes (violets) intermixed with creme de cassis, pen ink, scorched earth and a touch of subtle wood spice in the background. This full-bodied, tannic, muscular blockbuster Hermitage should prove to be a classic, and age effortlessly for 25 or more years." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 96pts

	"An incredibly subtle perfume of black raspberries, creme de cassis, camphor, and acacia flowers is followed by an elegant, concentrated wine with beautifully integrated acidity, tannin, wood, and alcohol. This seamless, gorgeously-proportioned, large-framed wine represents the definition of finesse, elegance, and terroir." Reviewed by Robert Parker. - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 96pts
66043	2009 Guigal Ermitage Ex Voto	$495.00	N/A	N/A
	"This has a distinctive singed mesquite note out front, along with sandalwood, black tea and juniper hints, followed by a very densely packed core of raspberry, plum and blackberry confiture flavors. The long, charcoal-studded finish has a great tug of roasted earth. Dynamic and expressive, this should cellar effortlessly." Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 97pts "Another perfect wine, the 2009 Ermitage Ex Voto is surprisingly supple and more approachable than the two single vineyard 2009 Cote Roties, La Turque and La Landonne. The massive Ex Voto boasts abundant notes of spring flowers, blackberries, cassis, licorice, graphite and forest floor. Extremely full-bodied with sweet tannin and levels of extravagance and flamboyance that are mind-boggling, it will drink well for 30+ years." -Robert Parker, Jr. - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 100pts

	"Deep ruby. Complex, high-pitched aromas of blackberry, candied licorice, minerals, violet and pipe tobacco. Juicy, stony and focused on the palate, with impressive volume and depth to its ripe dark berry and floral pastille flavors. Finishes very long, with slow-building tannins and a zesty mineral aspect." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 92pts

	"The strikingly intense powdered stone/granite minerality is apparent in this wine of great intensity, prodigious, almost skyscraper-like texture, massive body and high tannins. Filled with potential, it is one of the single greatest Hermitages I have ever tasted. There is no hint of its 100% new oak aging!" -Robert Parker - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 100pts

	"The 2007 Hermitage Ex-Voto is a flamboyant, exuberant, showy effort that flirts with perfection. Its nearly overwhelming perfume of spring flowers, balsamic notes, blackberries, cassis, melted licorice and espresso roast is followed by an intense, full-bodied wine with silky tannins, massive concentration and a finish that lasts over a minute." The dark, anise- and graphite-filled finish will need time to settle into itself." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 94pts
