It is full-bodied, but that's only apparent in the aftertaste, as the wine seems to float across the palate with remarkable sweetness, harmony, and the integration of all its component parts – alcohol, tannin, acidity, wood, etc. This prodigious Haut-Brion is hard to compare to another vintage, at least right now, but it should have 50 to 75 years of aging potential." -Robert Parker - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 100pts

	"This full-bodied, colossal giant of a wine is one of the goliaths of the vintage. It may well have the highest level of natural alcohol for any wine from the Left Bank of Bordeaux (15.1%) and has the definite potential to be a 50- to 75-year wine. Dense purple, it offers up notes of lead pencil shavings, charcoal embers, blueberry and blackberry liqueur along with massive concentration, a multi-dimensional mouthfeel and a monumental finish that goes well past a minute, which I think might be a record for a young Bordeaux. Keep in mind that the 2009, which I gave three digits, came in at 14.7%, but the pH of the 2010 is lower, giving the wine a freshness and precision that is remarkable. The final blend was 62% Cabernet Sauvignon, 37% Merlot, and – unlike the Chapelle de la Mission, which has 26% Cabernet Franc – there's only 1% Cabernet Franc in the 2010 La Mission Haut-Brion. This is a wine for those of you with youth on your side as well as patience. It will need a good decade of cellaring. An amazing wine." -Robert Parker - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 98pts

	"What a blockbuster effort! Atypically powerful, one day, the 2009 Haut-Brion may be considered to be the 21st century version of the 1959. It is an extraordinarily complex, concentrated effort made from a blend of 46% Merlot, 40% Cabernet Sauvignon and 14% Cabernet Franc with the highest alcohol ever achieved at this estate, 14.3%. Even richer than the perfect 1989, with similar technical numbers although slightly higher extract and alcohol, it offers up a sensational perfume of subtle burning embers, unsmoked cigar tobacco, charcoal, black raspberries, wet gravel, plums, figs and blueberries. There is so much going on in the aromatics that one almost hesitates to stop smelling it. However, when it hits the palate, it is hardly a letdown. This unctuously textured, full-bodied 2009 possesses low acidity along with stunning extract and remarkable clarity for a wine with a pH close to 4.0. The good news is that there are 10,500 cases of the 2009, one of the most compelling examples of Haut-Brion ever made. It requires a decade of cellaring and should last a half century or more. 55657	2012 Chateau Smith Haut Lafitte Pessac Leognan (Futures)	$62.00	N/A	N/A
	"A brilliant success again, this blend of 55% Cabernet Sauvignon, 40% Merlot, 4% Cabernet Franc and 1% Petit Verdot is a medium-bodied, impressively concentrated wine with copious quantities of red and black fruits. Licorice, roasted herbs and a touch of background oak are present in this slightly precocious wine, which should be accessible when released. It has the depth to evolve for 20 or more years. Talk about a severe selection – only 41% made it into the grand vin!" -Robert Parker - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 92 to 94pts
55337	2012 Le Clarence de Haut Brion Pessac Leognan (Futures)	$83.00	N/A	N/A
	"Haut-Brion's second wine, the 2012 Le Clarence de Haut-Brion, is a delicious, seductive, fruity, lighter-styled effort exhibiting plenty of crushed rock, floral and mineral notes intermixed with red and black currants, camphor and forest floor. This pretty, medium-bodied wine can be drunk upon release or cellared for a decade."Reviewed by: Robert Parker, The Wine Advocate - 88 to 90 pts"Offers plum, mixed berry and singed vanilla notes against a backdrop of anise and tar. Displays a sinewy edge on the finish, but the stuffing is there for development." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 90 to 93pts
54876	2012 Chateau Haut Bergey Pessac Leognan (Futures)	$21.00	N/A	N/A
	"Another brilliant effort from proprietress Helene Garcin, the opaque ruby/purple-colored, medium-bodied 2012 Haut-Bergey reveals lots of smoky barbecue, forest floor, black currant and damp earth notes in a surprisingly dense, concentrated, positive, complete style. An outstanding mid-palate and length make for an impressive showing."-Reviewed by: Robert Parker, The Wine Advocate - 90 to 93 pts "Showy style, with lots of ganache and dark toast leading the way, backed by ample plum sauce, fig paste and currant confiture notes. Long, charcoal-framed finish has plenty of heft. Not shy in style, this has density and drive." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 90 to 93pts
55343	2012 Clos Marsalette Pessac Leognan (Futures)	$21.00	N/A	N/A
	"The 2012 reveals plenty of Christmas fruitcake notes intermixed with a hint of roasted herbs, sweet, jammy black currant and black cherry fruit, and a touch of background oak in an exuberant, quasi-opulent style with outstanding intensity, richness and blossoming complexity. It is an impressive example of a Pessac-Leognan, one of the stronger appellations in the 2012 vintage."Reviewed by: Robert Parker, The Wine Advocate - 90 to 92 pts"A bright tobacco leaf and savory note up front is followed by sleek black cherry, plum and blackberry fruit that has melded nicely. Long, alder-tinged finish has lovely minerality. Distinctive." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 90 to 93pts
71537	2013 Le Clarence de Haut Brion Pessac Leognan (Futures)	$75.00	N/A	N/A
	"Features a plump feel, with plum, cherry and blackberry fruit lined with savory, tobacco and warm cedar notes. Lightly firm through the finish, but this has ample flesh for the vintage. Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc.—Tasted non-blind." Reviewed by: James Molesworth, Wine Spectator - 88-91pts "Barrel Sample. The second wine of Haut-Brion, this is soft, fruity and full of black currant notes. It is gentle and rounded, with the freshness that comes from the vintage." - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast - 90 to 92pts

	"Features a bright savory note, offering violet, plum and crushed cherry fruit. Presents a lightly stony finish, with the savory edge taking an encore. Shows the herbal side of Cabernet in this vintage." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 89 to 92pts
71536	2013 Chateau Picque Caillou Rouge Pessac Leognan (Futures)	$19.50	N/A	N/A
	"The Pique-Caillou 2013 is a blend of 62% Cabernet Sauvignon and 38% Merlot picked from 26 September until 7 October. It has a fragrant mulberry bouquet with fine delineation, soft in the mouth, approachable with dark, chocolate tinged fruit on the finish. It is easy-drinking but feels nicely rounded in the mouth." Reviewed by: Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate - 86 to 88pts "Barrel Sample. Firm and tannic, this wine boasts a solid texture. It is dense and powerful, with fine acidity at the end." - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast - 90 to 92pts
14840	2006 Chateau Haut Brion	$495.00	N/A	N/A
	"The 2006 Haut-Brion performed even better from bottle than it did from barrel. Sixty-four percent of the production went into this wine, and while it displays the vintage's powerful tannins and structure, it possesses superb concentration, and the minerality/scorched earth notes of a great Haut-Brion. Medium to full-bodied, with perhaps not quite the fleshiness of the 2005 or 2000, it is built more along the lines of the 1998 and 1996. It is a brilliant effort displaying sensational purity, texture, and length that should be exceptionally long-lived."-Robert Parker - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 96pts
