The robusto comes wrapped in a silky Connecticut broadleaf wrapper that collaborates with six other types of tobaccos from six different farms. 	The Hoyo De Tradicion cigar consists of five different types of tobacco from three major growing regions of the world. The filler is Ometepe tobacco, a strain of tobacco grown exclusively for General Cigar by Nestor Placencia on a volcanic island on Lake Nicaragua. This is a medium bodied cigar that exhibits sweet woody, milk chocolaty flavors that finish off with a touch of cream. A great cigar that was created with every smoker’s preference in mind.

	The Kristoff line of cigars have been a humidor favorite from their initial debut in the cigar world. This new blend adds more Ligero filler tobaccos that in turn add more body and strength yet retain the finesse they are known for. The robusto, being medium to full in body, gives the smoker a mouthful of café con leche with touches of cocao that linger on throughout the palate. Another winner from the Kristoff family of cigars.
