74096	2012 Errazuriz Cabernet Sauvignon Max Reserva	$14.99	N/A	N/A
	"The 2012 Max Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon is a blend from different plots in their Aconcagua property with alluvial and colluvial soils with different contents of clay and stones. It has the classical Bordeaux nose from a blend of Cabernet Sauvignon with 10% or so of Petit Verdot and 5% Cabernet Franc, with typical aromas of raspberry leaf, black berries, tobacco, cassis, cedar wood, paprika and black pepper as well as hints of mint, but absolutely no eucalyptus aromas. The palate is medium-bodied, with sophisticated, fine and grainy tannins, good acidity and freshness, despite the balsamic character for a warm vintage." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 88pts

	"The 2012 Max Reserva Carmenere seems to be a little riper than the 2011, and somehow misses some punch, as the palate feels flatter. Yes, the herbal, spicy tones are there, but the wine is less vibrant." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 88pts

	"The 2011 Cabernet Sauvignon has a Bordeaux-like bouquet, perhaps no surprise given the producer, with notes of blackberry, bay leaf and sous-bois. The palate is medium-bodied with dry, slightly coarse tannins and a strong bell pepper and spice finish that shows good length, if not great finesse." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 86pts

Finishes with very good clarity and cut, leaving a bitter cherry note behind. This is an excellent value for the variety, and not just for a Chilean wine." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 87pts

Aromas of pain grille, graphite, dark chocolate, plum, and blackberry are followed by a medium- to full-bodied, layered, full-flavored wine with enough structure to evolve for 2-3 years at which point it could well merit an outstanding rating. As is, it is an outstanding value." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 89pts

	"Vina Koyle's 2009 Carmenere Reserva includes 8% Cabernet Sauvignon and 7% Syrah in its blend. It saw 60% of the wine aged in French oak for 12 months while 40% was aged in stainless steel. Notions of herbs and spices, lavender, blueberry, and blackberry inform the nose of a layered, plush, sweetly-fruited wine that nicely shows off Carmenere's positive attributes. This lengthy effort has the balance and structure to drink well for another 5-6 years." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 90pts
