59940	Woodchuck Amber Cider	$8.99	$7.99	11%
	"Easily a session style cider, neither too dry or too sweet, it rests in perfect balance. Pairs well with some apple wood smoked chicken quarters and slaw." - Reviewed by: Beeradvocate.com
59948	Woodchuck Granny Smith Cider	$8.99	$7.99	11%
	"Light refreshingly tart cider, easy to drink and quick to quench. Good balance of tartness with undertones of dry white wine." - Reviewed by: Beeradvocate.com
59950	Woodchuck Pear Cider	$8.99	$7.99	11%
	"Pretty good, perhaps a little too processed, yet I have not come across pear ciders too much in my time. This will still stand up to hearty Jack or Munster cheeses as a pairing." - Reviewed by: Beeradvocate.com
59945	Woodchuck Dark Cider	$8.99	$7.99	11%
	"Full of flavor and a well balanced character to boot, very much suited to be paired with hearty meats...perhaps rosemary grilled lamb chops with a side of steamed asparagus and a baked sweet potato?" - Reviewed by: Beeradvocate.com

59936	Woodchuck Raspberry Cider	$8.99	$7.99	11%
	A sweet tasting, fruit infused beverage from the pioneers of hard cider. Well balanced, with the raspberry flavors upfront. A nice change of pace drink for any occasion. Recommended. - Reviewed by: Binny's
39850	Woodchuck Crisp Cider	$8.99	$7.99	11%
	"..A session cider that's cool, refreshing and crafted to be delicate in body and perfected with a delicious crisp apple taste.." - Reviewed by: Producer
59890	Wyder's Dry Apple Cider	$9.99	N/A	N/A
	Apple aroma is very pronounced, and very sweet smelling. Very little carbonation with initial pour, blond in color. A decent alternative to a Woodchuck or Woodpecker cider. - Reviewed by: Binny's
59893	Wyder's Raspberry Cider	$9.99	N/A	N/A
	Reminds me a lot of Woodchuck Raspberry. Tastes and smells like lots of fresh raspberries. Nice balance (for a cider). Personally, I would prefer a good framboise lambic, but this would do in a pinch. - Reviewed by: Binny's
59892	Wyder's Pear Cider	$9.99	N/A	N/A
	"....Nice clean, tart pear taste....very thirst quenching, medium in sweetness with subtle flavors....If you like pears or perry, you'll like Wyders." - Reviewed by: Beeradvocate.com
