73969	2012 Machmer Gewurztraminer Spätlese	$13.99	$12.99*	7%
	"This Spätlese, translating to 'late-harvest,' is sweeter than the style from Alsace, but also has far more floral, fruity and off setting spicy aromatics and flavors: rose petals, lychee, passion fruit, apricot, ginger and white pepper. Its lower level of alcohol combined with its off-dry nature and perfumed profile make it a perfect pairing with spicier cuisine, like that of India, Thailand, China and Mexico, as well as an array of cheeses, especially Münster, and can even be served as a dessert wine." - Reviewed by: Producer
