	"these grapes were harvested with the intent to make two wines, Merlot from Har Bracha and Cabernet from Shiloh. During barrel ageing, I played with creating more complexity in each wine by blending small amounts of each into the other, and as a lark experimented with a total blend of the Cabernet and Merlot with a single barrel of Petite Sirah added. The total blend was markedly superior to any other cepage. It was a result of what ecologists call 'emergent properties', characteristics that emerge in a complex milieu that were previously unobserved in the independent parts of the total. Discovering these emergent properties while blending wine defines one aspect of the art of wine making." - Reviewed by: Producer

	"As tends to be the case, this is tighter, more focused, more powerful and a bit harder edged than the Petit Castel – not surprising considering that this is Cabernet-dominated and the Petit Castel is Merlot-dominated – but they still have similar styles. This is a moderately earthy wine this year – less earthy than the 2009 Petit Castel, though – with seductive texture and focus." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 92pts

	"Castel's Grand Vin is a consistent Bordeaux-style blend that shows good depth and concentration, as well as the promise to age gracefully. Forward oaky notes of vanilla, toast and sweet spice dominate the nose, but the black-fruit core keeps it grounded. Flavors of cassis and black plum flesh out the palate, and a peppery note lingers long on the finish." - Reviewed by: The Wine Enthusiast - 90pts
