57304	2010 Mommessin Clos de Tart	$395.00	N/A	N/A
	"The bouquet is very seductive with introspective black fruit rather than red. The minerality is tangible just below the surface, then a hint of oyster shell emerging with aeration. The palate has wonderful volume, coming over all fleshy and silky in the mouth thanks to the layered fresh strawberry and red cherry fruit. There is high perfectly judged acidity and a feminine finish that is totally entrancing. What a beautiful, feminine, refined Clos de Tart." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 97pts

	"The 2010 Clos Saint Denis comes across as seamless and impeccable from start to finish. It is an effortless, graceful wine that defines the essence of what makes Grand Cru Burgundy Grand Cru. It literally hovers on the palate with impeccable class and personality. The Clos Saint Denis was made with 100% whole clusters, which comes through in the wine's personality, especially on the finish." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 94 to 96pts

	"The 2010 Clos de la Roche is dark, voluptuous and seductive. Black cherries, mint, spices and graphite flesh out on the mid-palate and finish. The Clos de la Roche boasts gorgeous inner sweetness and perfume, with big, yet fine, tannins that frame the fruit through to the finish. The style is rather immediate, but I don't see anything wrong with that." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 94 to 96pts

	"The 2010 Chapelle-Chambertin is dark and brooding. Cool, mineral notes lead to slate, black cherries, tar and licorice. This is a decidedly muscular, intense Burgundy with tons of density and power enshrouded by statuesque tannins. The sheer power and intensity suggest the Chapelle will require considerable patience. This big, dramatic wine is built for the cellar, but it is without question a showstopper, even today." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 94 to 96pts

	"Here the expressive nose offers up a high-toned, pure and impressively complex mix of red and blue pinot fruit, violets and discreet wood nuances. There is fine richness and excellent concentration to the powerful middle weight flavors that brim with a fine minerality on the attractively textured if moderately austere, balanced and built to age finish. As with the Clos de la Roche, there is excellent phenolic ripeness to the structural elements." - Reviewed by: Burghound - 95pts

	"Complex, soil-driven aromas of dark berries, cherry, licorice, pepper and minerals, lifted by a note of blood orange. Juicy, intensely flavored and imploded; taut and powerful yet at the same time elegant. The crop level here was close to 50 hectoliters per hectare, noted Lardiere, but the grapes were small and no saignee was done. The long finish shows a distinctly creamy aspect." 92-95 pts, reviewed by Stephen Tanzer. - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 92 to 95pts

	"The 2012 Charmes-Chambertin Grand Cru is raised entirely in new oak and includes less whole cluster in order to retain the femininity of the cru. It has a well-defined, mineral rich bouquet that remains tight at the moment, refusing to acquiesce in the glass. The palate is medium-bodied with very fine, quite succulent tannins, good acidity, a gentle grip and impressive build towards the structured blackberry and blueberry-driven finish. Very good tension here and in synch with the fruit, this Charmes-Chambertin should age well over the next 20 years." Reviewed by: Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate - 93-95pts "Another dark, mysterious wine, the 2012 Charmes-Chambertin is laced with dark red plum, smoke, incense and savory/floral notes. 	"The 2012 Musigny Vieilles Vignes Grand Cru is initially mild-mannered on the nose, unassuming at first but unfolding with each swirl of the glass to reveal scent of dark cherries, Dorset plum, blueberry and licorice. But it is very contained like the Bonnes-Mares, the bouquet strongly advising to return in a decade's time. The palate is very well balanced with filigree tannins, brambly red berry fruit and a marine-influence from start to finish – hints of brine and seaweed; shucked oyster shell on the finish. This is a very accomplished, fascinating Musigny from de Vogue." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 96 to 98pts

In the mouth, it is similarly compelling, with an eruption of clear black cherry, cassis, and meat juices, faintly bitter notes of fruit skin and pungent herbal and mineral notes adding complexity. It has a beguiling, floral bouquet with dried violet petals infusing the lush dark cherry and cassis fruit that is extremely well defined and carries the oak with ease. The palate is medium-bodied with a gentle grip on the entry. 72940	2012 Bernard Dugat Py Gevrey Chambertin Premier Cru	$295.00	N/A	N/A
	"As usual, the 2012 Gevrey-Chambertin 1er Cru is a blend of "Fonteny", "Corbeaux" and "Perrieres", raised entirely in new wood and includes 60-70% whole cluster. It has a tightly wound bouquet, the new oak prominent at the moment and masking the terroir expression. The palate has a core of sweet, ripe, citrus-fresh fruit that is very well delineated. The palate certainly carries the oak well, allowing opulent ripe cassis and blackcurrant fruit to flourish before retreating towards a welcome, quite linear finish. The final impression is that this premier cru is backward, despite the generosity of the nose, and deserves several years to show its best. Good potential though." Reviewed by: Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate - 91-93pts "Stunning purity and delineation are the signatures of the 2012 Gevrey-Chambertin 1er Cru. Dark red and black cherries, menthol, licorice and cloves burst from the glass. The tannins are firm, yet they are also beautifully balanced by the sheer density of the fruit. Rich and voluptuous throughout, the 2012 is firing on all cylinders today. Like all of the wines in this range, the 1er Cru is going to require quite a bit of patience.
