	"Bright violet to the eye, with some floral/fruit hints on the nose. Wild strawberries and fresh red cherries on the palate, and both framed by a suggestion of chocolate—with just a hint of tannins emerging with time. Classic, classic, classic beaujolais with its bright red fruit and silky texture; this is bistrot wine at its very best, and will turn the head of even the most jaded wine geek. Insanely inexpensive at the moment—so buy this one by the case (or two—yes it's that good!) for a ready supply to enjoy throughout the spring and summer months."

	"Delivers floral and licorice overtones as well as toasty, nutty notes that point to the positive influence of ripe stems. There are even carob and chocolate notes, yet for all of their low tones, the fruit here is of bright and tart-edged dark berries, and a saline streak serves to engage the salivary glands. This interactively multi-dimensional cuvee should be worth following at least through 2015." - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 90pts

	"Brilliant violet color. Powerful, mineral-accented aromas of cherry-cola, dark berries and violet, with a hint of woodsmoke in the background. Juicy and penetrating, offering vibrant dark berry flavors and a jolt of zesty minerality on the back half. The floral note repeats on the finish, which is firmed by youthful, fine-grained tannins." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 92pts

"Brilliant ruby-red. High-pitched aromas of cherry and black raspberry are complemented by notes of black pepper and mace. Tangy and light on its feet, offering fresh dark berry flavors and a touch of palate-numbing spiciness. Shows good energy on the finish, which features fine-grained tannins and a hint of candied violet. As usual, this is a pretty complex wine for its category." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 88pts
