"These variations of growing conditions from site to site include vines planted in north-south rows or east-west rows, on the foothills (cooled by gully breezes) or on the flat of the Valley floor, in red brown earths, sandy loams or dark clay soils. All of these variations (and more) contribute to the diversity of flavors that Barossa Shiraz can exhibit, hence our “Barossa Patchwork”. A combination of small (8 tonne) and medium size (25 tonne) static fermenters have been used, with a fermentation cycle of between 8-12 days. The natural or ‘wild’ yeasts present on the grape skins were allowed to initiate the sugar fermentation. Cultured winery yeasts were then added to complete this fermentation. The majority of parcels were then run to barrel, the result is a wine with excellent depth of color, richness and complexity." - Reviewed by: Producer

"Textbook cabernet on the nose and palate, displaying dark berries, cherry, cracked pepper and tobacco scents along with subtle florality. Supple and sweet, with ripe cherry and cassis flavors, a dusting of tannins and good finishing cling. This seems ready to drink but it also has the depth to age a while longer." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 88pts

"Light gold. Pungent pear, fig and honey aromas, buoyed by notes of lemon pith and white flowers. Chewy and tightly focused on entry, then fleshier in the mid-palate, offering bitter pear skin, anise and citrus fruit flavors that show a refreshingly dry edge. Fleshier on the finish, which strongly repeats the lemon and licorice notes. This wine's combination of power and dryness will make it extremely flexible at the table." - Reviewed by: International Wine Cellar - 90pts
