	"The Chardonnay fattens and rounds out the Zinfandel, making the wine creamier, underlining its notes of citrus and cinnamon spice, and adding a hint of pear, pineapple and lychee. It also enhances the middle palate-the impression we get of the wine between the first taste and the finish." - Reviewed by: Producer

	"The Bandol Rosé from Pradeaux is perhaps the most serious wine in this category. Robust, rich, and complex with an ability to age gracefully, this wine is based on Cinsault (50%) and Mourvèdre (50%), taking its slight orange tint from the latter cépage. The younger vines of the domaine (average age: 25 years) are utilized to produce a rare rosé with staying power and exceptional complexity." - Reviewed by: Producer

80470	2014 Commanderie de Peyrassol Cotes de Provence Rose	$19.99	N/A	N/A
	"For us, this wine is the classic representation of the pink-tinted wines of this region and is the workhorse wine of the estate. It carries a pale rose color, a lovely fruit blossom nose and finishes crisply dry with a stony touch that gives it class and elegance. The grape blend is usually Cinsault, Grenache and Syrah in varying percentages. The average age of the vines is 25 years or more. The Rosés of Peyrassol are made from the direct press method. The grapes undergo cold maceration before being pressed. This gives them their beautiful watermelon pink color." - Reviewed by: Producer

	"The wine is a blend of Rhône varietals (Grenache, Cinsault, Mourvedre and Syrah) and this lovely family-run winery has used its experience with this fruit from its Châteauneuf du Pape production to make a crisp pale, light and mineral, but delicately wild strawberry-fruit-flavoured wine. It's very much in the style of a Provençal pink rather than the typically darker and richer rosés normally found in the area." - Reviewed by: Producer
