80870	2014 Chateau Miraval Rose Cotes de Provence	$22.99	N/A	N/A
	"A light rosemary thread weaves around a core of white cherry and dried tea leaf notes, lingering on the refreshing finish, where stylish rose water and white peach accents chime in. A pure style. Drink now." - James Molesworth, Oct 15, 2015 - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 90pts
83251	2014 Chateau de Segries Tavel Rose	$16.99	N/A	N/A
	"A terrific southern Rhone estate, Chateau de Segries 2014 Tavel is a perinneeal value that always delivers. Made from Grenache, Cinsault, Syrah and Clairette, it's lively and fresh, with classic Tavel notes of raspberries, wild strawberries, citrus blossom and touch of minerality on the nose. Medium-bodied, balanced, beautifully focused and clean, it's a classic Tavel that's worth a multi-bottle purchase." - Jeb Dunnuck, eRobertParker.com #219 Jun 2015 - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 90pts
83255	2014 Chateau de Manissy Tavel Rose	$16.99	N/A	N/A
	"Seemingly slightly evolved, with notions of sweet cherries, raspberry, lavender and dried Provencal herbs, the 2014 Tavel Cuvee des Lys Tavel is a richer, fuller style of rosé that has medium to full-bodied richness, plenty of heft to its fruit and texture, and a good finish. I'd like to see a little more vibrancy and freshness here, but it certainly has great texture and will be food friendly." - Jeb Dunnuck, eRobertParker.com #219, Jun 2015 - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 86pts
85746	2015 Innocent Bystander Pink Moscato	$11.99	N/A	N/A
	"Bright neon pink. Heady red berry liqueur, tangerine and floral scents are sharpened by a peppery element and a hint of spicecake. Juicy, gently sweet and expansive, offering intense raspberry and cherry compote flavors that are reined in by a hint of tangy acidity. Finishes smooth and broad, with resonating red fruit and floral notes and good cling. This delicious, ridiculously easy-to-drink wine clocks in at 5.5% alcohol, by the way. It would make a great pairing with spicy northern Indian food." - Josh Reynolds. Tasting date: April 2015 - Reviewed by: Vinous - 89pts
82117	2014 Mas de Gourgonnier Rose Les Baux de Provence	$17.99	N/A	N/A
	"Vivid orange-pink. Intense red berry, cherry, tangerine and floral pastille scents are accented by succulent herbs. Sappy and seamless on the palate, offering juicy raspberry and bitter cherry flavors that tighten up with air. Nicely combines power and finesse, finishing with strong closing lift and fruity persistence." - Josh Reynolds. Tasting date: April 2015 - Reviewed by: Vinous - 90pts
84608	2014 Guigal Cotes du Rhone Rose	$12.99	N/A	N/A
	"One of the best rosés is Guigal's 2014 Cotes du Rhone Rose, which checks in as a blend of 60% Grenache, 30% Cinsault and 10% Syrah. Sporting a lighter raspberry color (this cuvee normally has a slightly darker color), it gives up lots of sweet cherry, strawberry, honeysuckle and Provencal herb characteristics to go with a medium-bodied, rounded, beautifully supple and textured feel on the palate. This is a classic Cotes du Rhone that has both freshness and texture. Drink it over the coming 12-16 months." - Jeb Dunnuck, eRobertParker.com #219, Jun 2015 - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 90pts
80468	2014 Domaine Chantepierre Tavel Rose	$12.99	N/A	N/A
	"A plump, ripe-style rose, with anise-laced plum and black cherry fruit, backed by a hint of licorice. A whiff of tobacco at the very end keeps this lively. There's enough here to stand up to more substantial fare, such as grilled salmon. Drink now." - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 89pts
82919	2014 Chateau Sainte Eulalie Rose Printemps d'Eulalie	$11.99	N/A	N/A
	"An open-knit style, with lemon curd, cherry and white flower flavors, held together by zesty acidity. Savory herb and spice notes lead the finish. Drink now." - Gillian Sciarretta, Web Only, 2015 - Reviewed by: Wine Spectator - 86pts
83257	2014 La Bastide Blanche Bandol Rose	$22.99	N/A	N/A
	"A smoking rosé that has fabulous flavor intensity and depth, Bastide Blanche's 2014 Bandol Rose (based largely on Mourvedre) sports a medium salmon color to go with mineral-laced notes of orange blossom, melon, cherry pit and spice. Medium+-bodied, rich, full and layered, with integrated acidity, it has terrific depth of fruit and serious length on the finish, all while staying perfectly balanced and easy drinking. This is a serious rosé that will have 2-3 years of prime drinking, and if you're so inclined, an interesting evolution beyond that as well." - Jeb Dunnuck, eRobertParker.com #219, Jun 2015 - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 92pts
83246	2014 Chateau Trinquevedel Tavel Rose	$15.99	N/A	N/A
	"Vivid orange-pink. Potent, expansive red berry, blood orange and floral pastille scents, with a bright mineral overtone. Sappy and focused on the palate, offering spice-tinged redcurrant and cherry flavors that gain in depth and sweetness with aeration. Finishes with repeating minerality, a touch of lavender and excellent persistence. This wine has a solid track record for aging." - Josh Reynolds. 	"Light pink in color, the 2014 Cotes du Rhone Rose from Domaine les Aphillanthes is gorgeous and just hard to resist. Loaded with fruit forward notes of sweet cherries, raspberries and dried flowers, it has no hard edges on the palate, a supple, seamless texture and beautiful overall balance. Count me a fan, and while it comes up short on complexity, it scores for sheer drink-ability. Drink this beauty anytime over the coming summer months, although I'm sure it will still be enjoyable early in 2016 as well." - Jeb Dunnuck, eRobertParker.com #219 Jun 2015 - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 90pts

83252	2014 Domaine de la Mordoree Tavel Rose	$19.99	N/A	N/A
	"Truthfully, I think the 2014 Tavel La Dame Rousse is every bit as profound as the more expensive Reine des Bois cuvee, and the entry level Cotes du Rhone rosé, while made in a slightly more fresh style, is just as good as well. Sporting similar notes of framboise, orange blossom, white flowers and strawberries, it's a bigger, rich release that might lack a touch of the finesse and elegance found in the Reine des Bois, yet makes up for it with fabulous intensity, depth and length, while still staying clean, classy and pure. It's an incredible, full-bodied, beautiful rosé that's not for those looking for simple and quaffable." - Jeb Dunnuck, eRobertParker.com #219, Jun 2015 - Reviewed by: The Wine Advocate - 93pts
